Dear Matthew

Testimonial from Amber

As with most organisations, we're all too busy to spend time contacting mobile phone suppliers. Getting through the minefield of recorded messages is normally a challenge on its own; "press 1 for this, press 6 for that, press 3 for the other and then press 7 to go back to where you started", it was a refreshing surprise to actually phone Cani Consultancy and speak to a real person. They understood our requirements and delivered the service we were after. With our organisation spread across the country, communication is very important. They take care of any problems immediately, allowing Amber to concentrate on what we do best. We can highly recommend Cani to anyone; only if you want a fast, reliable and friendly service. If not, carry on pressing 1 for this, 3 for the other.....
